“Are we there yet?” Those simple words have been running through my mind this morning — sometimes mocking, sometimes serious, crop up on any long road-trip. This morning they propelled me back to the long drives across country that were a part of every summer during my childhood. Growing up in Chicagoland with grandparents in the Boston and Denver areas meant that there were lots of journeys across long, seemingly endless states. At some point, I remember a cassette tape deck being added to the journey. For as long as its batteries held out, it sat at the ready on the front seat between my parents. What I remember was that one of the favorite responses to our antsiness was Frank Sinatra crooning “High Hopes” – “...everyone knows an ant can't move a rubber tree plant! But he had high hopes... he had high hopes... he had high apple pie in the sky hopes...” A family singing in a hot car plying across the endless plains of Nebraska was somehow re-oriented to the possibility instead of just the present frustration. Somehow, I think that all of that travelling as a kid, and maybe the introduction of perspective re-orienting distractions, helped me to fall in love with the idea of the journey having value and not just the destination.

This year has been a journey, and it has exhausted most of us as we've waited for the destination of normalcy – “are we there yet?!?” These are good moments to remember that God journeys with us. Faith and grace are not destinations, but an orientation to a persistent, patient God who seems to love journeys. For God, those journeys are how God has always shaped God's people into a different way of seeing their lives and our world. And of course, it doesn't take much pondering of the stories of scripture to remember that God's people have struggled and whined repeatedly and sometimes it has seemed like the cassette-deck-of-reorienting-inspiration has run out of battery power. But God keeps moving forward with us, hoping that we'll come to cherish the blessings of the journey.

We are in the midst of the Easter Season – another time when God's people are invited to contemplate how the triumph of the good news has touched the world, past, present, and future. The season challenges us to be engaged with being kindlers of God's light in the world, and bearers of God's high hopes for all of creation. That's incredibly good news, but it's also hard work. We continue to live in a world that feels deeply divided. Politics, race, and even how we navigate a pandemic have each become painful reminders of how easy it is to let frustration and impatience overwhelm the perspective of the journey. I recently heard someone speak what used to be a more familiar phrase: “in my family growing up, we didn't see race...” and I was struck with a new sadness. There was a time that we put on a band-aid and thought that the best thing would be if we just didn't see difference. What we know is that this is only comfortable if you happen to be one of the people who has always felt seen. Our faith proclaims that each of us is created in the image of God. Our faith proclaims repeatedly that God's love and salvation is intended for all the earth. Yet sadly, instead of looking at a diverse landscape of humanity as an invitation to more fully understand the height and depth and breadth and diversity of God's love, we sell out to a more comfortable vision of homogenized unity.

We just heard the verdict in the George Floyd trial. Many have spoken of this as a pivotal moment for many in our world. Others have been rightly frustrated with that assessment as they note that had this been a white man, we would have expected nothing else. Even that deep division of perspective speaks to the continued challenge for us to work to understand and honor one another through trying to recognize the very different life experiences that people have. Jesus' prayer for unity doesn't come about by everyone holding hands and singing kumbaya as an affirmation that we're all the same, but rather by joining hands and celebrating that we are united in being equally valued, equally seen, equally cherished icons through which to see the face of God. The journey we are on is one that will be long and arduous. Two of the pandemics that we face, Covid-19 and racism, aren't going to disappear quickly. We can whine and get frustrated and keep asking "aren't we there yet?!" or we can open our hearts' minds and see what we might learn along the way. How might both of these struggles invite us to see and love our neighbor more deeply? How can the diversity of people and ideas become a chance to celebrate how great and vast is the love of our God? One of the things that I've cherished about our congregation is one of the same things that I now feel as a division, and that is the diversity of politics and theology within our church family. We have a chance to do the work to grow. We have the chance to expand our vision of God through all of the differences among us and around us... or we have the chance to limit God to our own perspectives and our own self certainties. When we learn to embrace the journey — maybe even trying to love the change of rhythm — a long journey may even become a pilgrimage of the soul. There is much for us to see and to learn together.

Just a year ago I turned to these words from First Peter: "Humble yourselves, therefore, under the mighty hand of God, so that you may be exalted in due time. Cast all your anxieties on God, because God cares for you. [...] Steadfast in your faith, know that your brothers and sisters in all the world are undergoing the same kind of suffering. And after you have suffered for a little while, the God of all grace, who calls you to eternal glory, will restore, support, strengthen, and establish you. To God be the power forever and ever. Amen." (1 Peter 5:6-7 & 9-11) As we continue to lean into this Easter Season may we find the light of God beckoning us to have high hopes and to keep growing.

May God bless us,

Pastor ERIC

Updates from the Regathering Committee:

Let me begin by continuing to acknowledge that every decision that we've made through the current pandemic is necessarily flawed. I am confident that in a couple of years we will have the hindsight and the depth of scientific understanding to know what actions were the most important for us to take, and which may have been unnecessary. This is, of course, the reality of science that is seeking to understand something that is "novel", new. It is very exciting to see how much we have learned in a short while, and at the same time we are seeing clearly that we are a society where we expect things to move even more rapidly than they are. Patience is a fragile virtue. Now is an extraordinary time to remember what scripture teaches us about loving one another:

You were called to freedom, brothers and sisters; only don't let this freedom be an opportunity to indulge your selfish impulses, but serve each other through love. All the Law has been fulfilled in a single statement: Love your neighbor as yourself. But if you bite and devour each other, be careful that you don't get eaten up by each other! ...the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control. There is no law against things like this. Those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified self with its passions and desires.

Galatians 5:13-15, 22-24 (CEB)

We met again this last week to try to discern how to best keep moving forward with everyone's concerns in mind, as well as the overarching reality that we are continuing to navigate a pandemic. We agreed that we will continue following the guidelines of the CDC, the Wisconsin Department of Health Services, while using the local data generated by the County Health Department. At this time, the county numbers direct us to limit our activities to 25% of capacity (50 worshippers in the sanctuary, the worship leaders are in addition to that number). We are not requiring sign-ups for services. If we exceed our capacity, we have overflow capacity with a live stream in the both the Narthex and Fellowship Hall.

We are certainly hoping that increased vaccinations and continued care will bring our county's Covid numbers down to a point where our advised capacities quickly increase. Those numbers will also impact our resumption of other church activities.

We will continue to follow the CDC guidance that requires people to wear a mask that covers their mouth and nose whenever they are meeting in groups at church. We will continue social distancing, hand washing/sanitizing, and all those other mitigation measures to which we have all become accustomed.

We are trying to reintroduce as many parts of “normal” as we can in our present “new normal”:

- We are inviting people who are in worship to sing quietly or to hum.
  - We still will not have choirs at this time.
- We will be resuming in-person Sunday School with our Summer Sunday School! beginning on June 6th during our 9:30 service.
- We will be returning to our normal service times of 8:00 and 9:30 beginning May 30th.
- Beginning May 30th we will reintroduce coffee hour in a new way. We will hold Coffee Hour outside on the lawn and gazebo after each service, weather permitting. If the weather is bad we will not have coffee hour that day/service (we won't be moving our fellowship inside). If you are willing to help with this, please contact the church office.
- We are planning to hold Vacation Bible School in person the last week of July.
- We are inviting the XYZ club to return for their weekly cards and fellowship.
- We will welcome the resumption of any other groups as long as they/we abide by the current limits and guidelines.

There will be TWO SUNDAYS when we will plan to be in Riverhill Park:

- May 23rd with services at 8:00 a.m. and 10:00 a.m. Confirmation will be during the 10:00 a.m. service.
- August 1st we are hoping to hold our church Pignic beginning with one worship service at 9:30 a.m.
  - Very sadly our Pignic coordinator, Kevin Lehman, died unexpectedly. If anyone would be willing to step up to help with portions of the Pignic, please contact the Church Office.

We will continue streaming all worship services to our YouTube Channel at “Peace UCC Kewaskum” or you can find a link from our website: www.peace-ucc.org or through our Facebook page. We are also now streaming all funeral services and posting those online. And we have had a chance to stream and post our first Baptism! Check it out.

Please pay attention to the Service times as they will be changing back to our pre-pandemic normal 8:00 am. and 9:30 am. starting on May 30th.

We encourage everyone to please continue to act with care and caution. We have been trying to take all practical steps toward mitigation of the pandemic as a Congregation, and now is certainly not the time to stop trying to be a part of the solution. Get vaccinated when you are able, this not only helps to protect yourself but also helps to reduce community spread and slow viral mutations. Please do your part in thinking about how your choices impact all of our community and our world. Our commitment is to continue seeking to love our neighbors as ourselves!

Thank you Peace Church!

Dear Peace UCC, I wanted to take the opportunity to thank each and every congregation member and staff of Peace UCC Church for their giving spirit, even through these especially hard times navigating through the COVID-19 pandemic. I know this past year has been financially difficult for many of us and I cannot even begin to state how appreciative I am and the positive impact the Peace UCC Scholarship has had, thank you for your generosity and kindness.

I am in my last few weeks of being a student! I will, as of May 1, 2021, achieve my dream of becoming a Doctor of Physical Therapy as a Marshall University graduate. I have finished my final clinical internship in North Carolina and have been offered a job at Pivot Physical Therapy upon passing my licensure exam. I have gained much knowledge in patient care this past year and am honored to be starting my career as a community and godly servant.

Thank you for your continuous support, belief, and prayers over my long student journey and I cannot wait to give back to others of the community someday soon! See you in May! Sincerely, Stephanie Henk
